

6/30/2014

edible

EAST END

Lieb's East Hampton Tasting Room to Host Pop-Up Shop

Each weekend in July, Lieb Cellars has invited a local vendor to set up a “pop-up” shop in the lounge area of their East Hampton Tasting Room. The vendors will offer their hand-sourced or crafted goods. They include a handmade jewelry designer based out of New York, a hand-printed clothing company, an artisanal cheese purveyor from New York City’s Chelsea Market (who once had an East Hampton retail shop), a vintage jewelry collector who sources pieces from all over the world, a vintage clothing and art collector with a large following on the North Fork and a Southampton-based landscape photographer.

“Since we’re new to the neighborhood, we thought offering part of our space to other local businesses without their own Hamptons retail footprint would be a great opportunity for us to support the local business community and offer our customers the ability to browse while they sip,” said Lieb Cellars’ tasting room manager, Alicia Ekeler.

The pop-up schedule is:

Sunday, July 6, 3-7 p.m.: Fin Jewelry & Whalebone Creative

Friday, July 11, 12-7 p.m.: Lucy’s Whey

Sunday, July 13, 12-5 p.m.: Paige of Style

Saturday, July 19, 3-7 p.m.: The Times Vintage

Saturday, July 26, 3-7 p.m.: East End Light